Passage 4

In the current cultural atmosphere,much is made of interchangeability between the sexes.Women can hold men s jobs and men can hold women's;both men and women can play the same sports;both are supposed to share household responsibilities.Also,with the rise of so many single-parent families,mothers of fathers often have to become two-parents-in-one for their teenager.

Yet,despite these trends,I believe firmly that there is a special importance in same-sex relationships between mothers and daughters,and fathers and sons.Without these relationships,of some substitute that fullfill a simliar function,it’ s hard for children and parents to experience the full range of intimate talking relationships.

My reasoning?In order to function effectively in the adult world,we need good role models to show us how to behave and react.To be sure,you can learn a great deal from the parent of the opposite sex and in the same cases,you may learn all you need to know.But in most cases,There is no real substitute for a good same-sex role model to give a child the best chance at complete and well-balanced emotional development.

Perhaps the most important lessons we learn from our same-sex parents are how to relate both to people of the same-sex and also to those of the opposite sex.Thus,sons need a strong male role model to learn how men deal with each other and with women.Similarly,daughters need a strong female model to understand how women relate to each other and to men.

58. In order to promote children's healthy mental development,_____ .

A. they need role models from parents of both sexes to follow.

B. they should be given better chances for development

C. they need both parents' sincere concern

D. they should not live in a single parent family

Passage 5

After graduating from the Swiss Federal Polytechnic School,Einstein held several teaching jobs and became a technical assistant in the Swiss Patent Office in Bern,where he remained for six years.The jobs great advantage,he later said,was that it gave him time to think about and physics.

Between 1901and1904,Einstein published five papers on physics.In one paper he virtually proved the existence of molecules,solely by the use of theory;in another ,he showed that light is both a wave and a particle.In his sixth paper published in the summer of1905,he established the outline of his theory of relativity.His arguments radically revised existing concepts of electromagnetism,light,and that the speed of light is constant and that nothing in the universe can travel faster than light.If the velocity of light is constant,then all motion and even time itself must be relative to it.If objects could approach the speed of light,their age,mass,and size would appear very different to a stationary observer than if the objects were moving at slower speeds.A clock nearing the speed of light would slow down;if it reached the speed of light,time would stand still.Many of his contentions,have been confirmed by subsequent experiments Atomic clocks in spacecraft of biting the earth,for example,run a fraction of a second more slowly than clocks on earth.
